

reviews

2013 High Altitude Cabernet Sauvignon

Windsor Dobbin

The Sunday Examiner, Sept 20, 2015

A cracking cabernet sauvignon from a family owned Barossa winery that has a formidable reputation for quality. Unlike many other Barossa reds this is noteworthy for its elegance and balance, no doubt because of the use of fruit from the higher altitude Eden Valley. This is medium-bodied and gentle, but in no way lacking in flavour. Cassis flavours are to the fore with soft oak playing a role alongside elegant tannin structure. Very pretty, and downright delicious.

Stocks getting very low

International Wine & Spirit Competition

2010 Command Shiraz - Silver Outstanding
2008 Command Shiraz - Silver Outstanding

Barossa Wine Show 2015

2015 Eden Valley Riesling - Silver

new wine release

2013 Fifteen

97 points Wine Advocate, Lisa Perrotti-Brown

We are finally ready to unleash a new wine from our Greenock Vineyard called Fifteen into the mouths and cellars of wine lovers, great restaurants and collectors from around the world.

The wine itself is a single vineyard expression of Shiraz from a vineyard that turned 100 years old this year, and located on the Western Ridge of the famous Barossa Valley.

The wine, hailing from 2013, is a supreme example of rich and luscious Barossa Shiraz. It was handpicked, and fermented in a large barrel (around 1500 litres) and left on skins for about six weeks. The wine was then pressed and spent a couple of winters in some of our favourite French Oak barrels.

Total production of the wine is much less than 100 dozen, and thus it will obviously be very rare.

It does have to be noted, that this wine will only be released in exceptional vintages and will be considered by Elderton to be a special release wine and not the elite wine from our portfolio. This is a spot that will always be reserved for our Command Shiraz.

stock updates

2015 Eden Valley Marsanne Roussanne - Available

2014 Eden Valley Chardonnay - Running very low

2013 High Altitude Cabernet Sauvignon - Running low

2014 Golden Semillon - Running low

2012 Neil Ashmead GTS - Running low

worth a giggle??

A Mexican magician tells the audience he was going to disappear on the count of 3. He says 'Un, Dos....' and then wham he disappears without a Tres!